

2011 CENSUS

POPULATION & DWELLING COUNT

The census includes only those people who are permanent residents of the East Kootenay and certain types of non-residents. It does not include visitors or seasonal residents. The number of dwellings includes all homes whether occupied or not.

In addition to population and dwelling unit counts, the RDEK has census information available on many other topics. Some of these include age, sex, religion, and ethnic income. Statistics Canada and BC Stats update this information regularly.

Census data is used by many individuals and organizations. Businesses and their investors use the information to determine size and composition of their markets. Governments base their funding allocations for schools, hospitals, social programs and other government services on the census. Planners monitor community change through the census.

The Regional District of East Kootenay includes the area from Ryan bridge east to Yahk to just north of Spillimacheen, from the height of land in the Purcell Mountains to the British Columbia-Alberta border. The RDEK is divided into six electoral areas. The boundaries are shown on the map on page four.
