Look up if your property is in the ALR - <https://www.alc.gov.bc.ca/alr-maps/>

The Agricultural land Reserve Use Regulation outlines permitted farm uses and non-farm uses for your property, including Short Term Rental Use. The ALC provides interpretation of Short Term Rental activities and uses within the ALR. ### What are Short-Term Rentals (STR)?

Generally, STRs occur in buildings and units that were originally purpose-built as long-term residential units on lands zoned for residential use and are distinguished from commercial enterprises such as hotels or motels. STRs often occur in single or two family homes, town homes, or apartment units.

Where zoning does not allow for commercial accommodation the STR TUP policy now requires operators of STRs to hold permits for each STR unit they operate to ensure that units comply with zoning, units are safe for guests, and operators are responsive to any concerns that may arise.

Do I need a temporary use permit (TUP) to operate a STR?

If your zoning does not allow for commercial accommodation use(s) then a TUP is required to offer STRs on your property. Typical zoning uses that allow commercial accommodation include uses such as hotels, motels, rural retreats or guest ranches.

How does the Agricultural Land Reserve (ALR) impact my ability to operate a STR?

The ALR Use Regulation specifies which permitted residential structures can be used for short-term tourism rental. Under Section 34 of the ALR Use Regulation short-term rental of a principal residence is not permitted unless it is operated as a Bed and Breakfast operation. Short-term rental of a secondary residence or suite may be permissible if the use is consistent with an approved agri-tourism use. The determination of whether the use is permitted must be made by the Agricultural Land Commission (ALC).

What are the requirements for STR Temporary Use Permit?

There are two types of STR TUP applications: a delegated STR TUP application and a non-delegated STR TUP application. Delegated applications are considered by staff within the scope of the RDEK STR TUP Policy. Non-delegated STR TUP applications are considered at the discretion of the RDEK Board and include proposals which go beyond the requirements of the STR TUP or are an application for a second permit on a single parcel of land.

Delegated application requirements:

The requirements for delegated STR TUPs are set out in the STR TUP Policy. The core criteria from the STR TUP Policy include:

Mandatory Criteria:

- a. STR use must not alter the residential appearance of the dwelling unit.
- b. In addition to the minimum required off-street parking spaces required by an RDEK zoning or land use bylaw, an STR TUP must provide additional parking in accordance with the following:

STR Maximum Guest Occupancy	Minimum Off-Street Guest Parking Spaces
9-10	3

- c. An STR TUP must be located within a dwelling unit of a single-family dwelling, duplex dwelling unit, accessory dwelling unit or multiple family dwelling unit. STR TUPS will not be issued for a boat, cabin, lock off unit, park model trailer, recreational vehicle, tent, or yurt.
- d. An STR TUP may only be issued for a single dwelling unit. Where multiple dwelling units exist on a single parcel a separate application must be submitted for each dwelling unit proposed to be used as an STR. The combined maximum guest occupancy of all STR TUPs per parcel shall not exceed the maximum occupancy allowable as per section 4.1.h.

Amended –
Sept 2024

- e. An Occupancy Permit must have been issued by the RDEK for an accessory dwelling unit proposed for use as an STR.
- f. Floor/fire safety plans must be submitted with an STR TUP application.
- g. Identification of a manager, owner or other designated contact who will be available to address issues that may arise any time STR accommodation is being provided. The name and contact information must be provided in the application and must be posted along with the STR TUP in a visible place within the dwelling unit and provided to properties within a 100 m area surrounding the property proposed for use as an STR.
- h. The maximum allowable occupancy of all STR TUPs issued per parcel shall not exceed 10 guests.
- i. Short Term Rental is located in Electoral Areas A, B, C, E, and G. (Applications in Electoral Area F are excluded from the staff delegated application stream).

Conditional Criteria:

- a. STRs may offer a maximum occupancy of 10 guests (of any age) at any time (further restrictions to guest limit may pertain due to safety risks or other possible concerns).
- b. The applicant must provide an affidavit to RDEK staff acknowledging that the property which they are applying for an STR TUP has no covenants on title or strata bylaws restricting the property from being used for STR accommodation.

Discretionary Criteria:

- a. Potential conflict with neighbouring properties;
- b. Proposed accessory uses and/or amenities;
- c. Site layout and servicing considerations;
- d. Other RDEK bylaws and policies; and,

Additional conditions at the discretion of the delegated staff, as identified in the Policy may be applied to a Permit when issued. Link to full STR TUP Policy: STR TUP Policy – December 2025.

Non-delegated application requirements:

Operators who wish to apply for a STR TUP that does not conform with the requirements of the STR TUP Policy may make an application directly to the RDEK Board. These applications must include all required information contained in the delegated application, in addition to information regarding why they are not able to meet the policy requirements and a statement of why their application should be approved. The additional information provided is intended to provide the RDEK Board with information regarding the extenuating circumstances of the application and/or what mitigation efforts will be implemented to avoid complaints and enforcement efforts.

Where can I find more information?

Zoning details regarding your property can be found online through the RDEK public web map, or by accessing the applicable zoning bylaw or this land use bylaw.

Further details about specific STR TUP requirements can be found online at: RDEK STR TUP Information.

What information will I need to submit?

Refer to the STR TUP application form and schedules included in this application package for fees, documentation and information required to be submitted with an application.

Generally, the information required will be a completed application form, a current title search, floor / fire safety plans, 24/7 responsible person contact information with consent to share for STR complaint / issue resolution, a signed Good Neighbour Agreement and a signed affidavit that you have reviewed your property title and strata bylaws (if applicable) to acknowledge that there are no third party restrictions (e.g. registered charges, covenants or bylaws) which prohibit use of your property for STR purposes.

What happens to my application?

RDEK planning staff will review your application to ensure all required information is included and that it does not contradict any RDEK bylaws. You may be requested to submit additional information in support of your application to ensure that all requirements are met.

Under certain circumstances, technical input from provincial government ministries may be required. In some cases, the application will be referred to provincial government agencies or other RDEK departments for comment. A notice will be issued according to the RDEK Public Notice Bylaw and Provincial Local Government Act requirements, including to neighbours and in local newspapers.

Delegated Applications:

Effective December 12, 2025 – the delegated stream is limited to applications within Electoral Areas A, B, C, E and G. Contact RDEK staff if you are unsure of the applicable Electoral Area for your application.

A staff recommendation and draft permit will be prepared:

- Once the review of the application and notice requirements have been completed, RDEK planning staff will prepare a draft TUP. The Planning Manager will examine your application, the draft permit and the comments and recommendations made by staff.
- Should your application meet all the requirements of the STR TUP, the permit will be issued, otherwise it will be denied. When the permit is issued, it may include conditions of approval that must be met by the applicant.

If the permit is refused:

- If your application is refused by the Planning Manager, you may ask the RDEK Board to reconsider your permit. Reapplication for the same proposal may proceed after six months, regardless of who denies the permit.
- You may apply for a different proposal at any time. You may also make a request for reconsideration of the application provided the request is based on new information, is accompanied by the appropriate fee and application form, and is received in writing no more than 30 days after the final date of decision.

If the permit is issued:

- You may proceed with offering your dwelling unit as a Short-Term Rental, subject to any conditions for the duration of the permit.

A staff recommendation to the RDEK Board of Directors will be prepared:

- Once the review of the application and notice requirements have been completed, RDEK planning staff will prepare a staff report and recommendation to the Board. Your application will then be added to the next available RDEK Board meeting agenda.

- You may request to make a delegation to the RDEK Board regarding your application. Please follow the steps on How To Request to Present at Board to apply to be a delegate during the meeting.
- During the meeting the Board will consider your application, the recommendation put forward by staff and any correspondence received during the public notice process. The decision on the application is decided by a vote of the Board and if approved a STR TUP will be issued, including any additional requirements or permit conditions that may be set by the Board.

If the permit is refused:

- If your application is refused by the RDEK Board reapplication for the same proposal may proceed after six months.
- You may apply for a different proposal at any time. If the permit is issued:

- You may proceed with offering your dwelling unit as a STR, subject to any conditions for the duration of the permit.

Permit Term and Renewal:

Issued permits are valid for up to three (3) years from the date of issuance. Renewal of permits is possible for an additional three (3) years and will be considered according to the same process of which they were initially granted (delegated or non-delegated).

Schedule C - Affidavit of Understanding

Applications will not be processed unless all required documentation is attached.

Completion of this application does not guarantee issuance of a Short-Term Rental (STR) Temporary Use Permit (TUP). Application review will commence only upon receipt of payment of the STR TUP fee and receipt of required documentation. Operating a STR without a valid permit is an offence for which penalties may be prescribed.

The issuance of the STR TUP has the sole effect of permitting a temporary use of land that is otherwise not permitted under the zoning bylaw or land use bylaw; the issuance of a STR TUP does not relieve the applicant from complying with any other applicable legal obligations and is not a representation or guarantee that the applicant is legally permitted to use the land as an STR.

Acknowledgement of no third party restrictions:

I/we have reviewed the property title and any applicable strata bylaws and hereby acknowledge that no restrictions (covenant or strata bylaw) exist prohibiting the use of the property for the provision of Short-Term Rental (STR) accommodation. I/we recognize that the issuance of an STR TUP permit by the RDEK does not nullify responsibility as property owner to adhere to registered charges, covenants or strata bylaws and that the use of the property contrary to registered charges, covenants or strata bylaws may result in legal action against the applicant(s) by the title charge holder, covenantor, or Strata Council.
